WOMEN'S MARCH – LOS ANGELES, SCHEDULED TO TAKE PLACE
ON SATURDAY, JANUARY 21st, 2017 SUPPORTED BY A HOST OF CELEBRITIES & ARTISTS!

Los Angeles, CA – January 17, 2017 – Organizers of the Women's March - Los Angeles, Emiliana Guereca and Deena Katz have announced a list of supporting celebrities and artists including Jane Fonda and Alfie Woodward and a host of others that will join the Los Angeles event on Saturday, January 21, 2017 beginning at 9:00 a.m. at Pershing Square, 532 S. Olive St., Los Angeles, CA 90013.

“We are so please to have these performers and high profile personalities to support and participate in the Women's March - Los Angeles. We are very grateful for their time and talents.” – Deena Katz

Women's March - Los Angeles will focus on positive, unifying action for all who seek women's rights, human rights, civil liberties and social justice and this wide-ranging list of supporting organizations bears out our American heritage of welcoming all races and religions.

“Women's March Los Angeles is about having our voices heard, activating our community and unifying our community. Women's rights are human rights.” – Emiliana Guereca

“In a time when we are all wondering what we can do, we can do this...let them hear our voice!”—Deena Katz

The Women's March – Los Angeles is part of a national movement to unify and empower everyone who stands for women's rights, human rights, civil liberties, and social justice for all. This is a non-partisan and peaceful event. People will unite locally and nationally in every state and major metropolitan area to stand with us in solidarity for the American values we represent.

The Women's March – Los Angeles welcomes everyone to join us as we unite locally and nationally. We seek to unify and empower everyone who stands for women's rights, human rights, civil liberties, and social justice for all. The Women's March marches to support and inspire each other and to remind our great nation to respect, honor and protect our diversity and our freedoms. We believe change comes from taking positive, constructive action and find solace and strength in the principles of inclusion, civility, and compassion for our shared humanity.

WHO

The march is open to everyone who stands for human rights, civil liberties, tolerance of diversity, and compassion for our shared humanity.

OUR MISSION

We stand together in solidarity for the protection of our rights, our safety, our health, and our families — recognizing that our vibrant and diverse communities are the strength of our country.

In the spirit of democracy and honoring the champions of human rights, dignity, and justice who have come before us, we join in diversity to show our presence in numbers too great to ignore. We stand together, recognizing that defending the most marginalized among us is defending all of us.

We support the advocacy and resistance movements that reflect our multiple and intersecting identities. We call on all defenders of human rights to join us. This march is the first step towards unifying our communities, grounded in new relationships, to create change from the grassroots level up. We work peacefully while recognizing there is no true peace without justice and equity for all.

HEAR OUR VOICE.
